

Tell the children to cut out and save the comic illustrations pictures as they appear from time to time. They will be pleased with the collection.

This space is owned by
BLACKWELL'S BULL.

Of course we mean the famous animal appearing on the label of every genuine package of Blackwell Bull Durham Smoking Tobacco. Every dealer keeps this, the best smoking tobacco made. None genuine without trade-mark of the Bull.

SPRING OPENING.

We take pleasure in announcing the spring opening of our seed store, at Market Street, next to Hecht's, growing seedling stock, with a fresh supply of

Flower Seeds, Garden Seeds,

Greenhouse and bedding plants, of all kinds, including and tomato plants, onion sets, sweet potatoes for seed and sweet potato plants, fruit and ornamental trees, evergreens, grapes, roses, and all varieties of plants and trees found in a florist's nursery. Floral decorations for funeral purposes, and wedding and parties supplied with cut flowers. U. P. DIERHARDT & SONS, 112 N. 2nd St., Maysville, Ky.

SAVE TIME AND MONEY!

—By using—

Burr's Patent Combination Index.

The Best in the World!

For indexing ledgers, letter books, commercial reports and records of all kinds. Specimens adapted to the use of banks, insurance companies, assessors, country towns and city clerks, for indexing deeds, bills, births, marriages, deaths, tax lists, and all other records. An index for all purposes; whereby any number can be found in a few minutes. Burr's Patent, over 1,000,000 now in use. Send for a trial, free for descriptive circular and price list.

THE BURR INDEX COMPANY,
151 Broadway, New York, N.Y.

T. J. CURLEY,

Sanitary Plumber,

GAS & STEAM FITTER,

Curley's new system of House Drainage and Ventilation. Bath rooms fitted up with hot and cold water a specialty. Also a large supply of
Iron, Lead and Stone Pipe,
Globe, Angle and Check Valves, water and steam gauges, Force and Lift Pumps, Rubber Hose, Chandeliers, Brackets and Globes. Personal attention given to all work and estimates guaranteed. T. J. CURLEY, Second street, above Market, opposite John Dodson's, Maysville, Ky. fidelity

SIMMONS'

Medicated Well-Water.

A Specific for DYSPEPSIA and DISEASES OF THE KIDNEYS.

HAS been used with most gratifying success in many obstinate cases. Prof. W. Clark, professor of Chemistry at the University of Cincinnati says this water "belongs to the same class with that of the Allegheny Springs, of Virginia," the medicinal virtues of which are too well known to be stated here. Those who desire to try this famous water referred to Captain C. W. Boyd, Louisville, Ohio; J. A. Ralpe, Cincinnati, Ohio. For sale in half barrels and quarts. W. S. SIMMONS, Proprietor,
102 1/2 N. 2nd St., Maysville, Ky. fidelity

CHARLES W. TUDOR,

CONTRACTOR AND BUILDER

Having had many years experience in every branch of his business and having built some of the best buildings in Kentucky and Tennessee both public and private, announces to the citizens of Maysville and surrounding country that he is now permanently located in Maysville, and solicits the patronage of all desiring work done in this line. Stable building of every character a specialty. Satisfaction guaranteed. Orders by mail promptly attended to. City residence, 123 Second St., Pitts Ward, Maysville, Ky. fidelity

MOSE DAULTON & SONS,

GOOD INTENT

Livery and Sale Stable.

A full line of kind of vehicles on hand for sale, hire or exchange. Horses kept by day, week or month. Largest and best equipped Livery Stable in the West. Prices as low as any. Best attention given to all orders. Telephone connection. No. 41 and 43 West Second St., Maysville, Ky. fidelity

THOMAS DICKSON,

—Dealer in—

STAPLE AND FANCY GROCERIES,

Third street, east of Limestone, (Powers' old stand), Maysville, Ky. Highest market price paid for all kinds of country produce, and of groceries at bottom prices. Call on "Uncle Tom" whether you wish selling or buying. fidelity

OPIMUM MORPHINE HABIT

For the cure of the above named habit, see advertisement in this issue. fidelity

THE AUSTRIAN FIENDS.

Execution of the Terrible Girl Murderers.

One of the Most Remarkable Criminals Ever Known—The Strange Case That Has Won Wondrous Puzled Vienna.

VIENNA, April 23.—Hugo Schenck and Karl Schlosser were executed to-day for murders almost innumerable. The condemned men rose at an early hour this morning and received the ministers, who offered religious consolation. An altar had been fitted up in the prison and mass said. Both partook of the sacraments, and prayed fervently.

In the way from their cells to the place of execution the condemned men answered responses to the "Office for the Dead," which the priests were reciting. After the usual preliminaries were gone through, the word was given, and the prisoners were drawn up and slowly marched to the gallows. Schenck was rather good looking and barely thirty years of age. He was tall, well-mannered and spoke fluently several languages. In fact he was the sort of a man to win the hearts of young women. He was dressed in a dark suit, and wore a white shirt and tie. His mode of operation was as follows:

After making the acquaintance of a girl he used first of all to ascertain what the amount of her savings was. If the latter was sufficient he began to make love to her. After having by a promise of marriage won her heart and confidence of his victim, he generally commenced by convincing her with her money. Then he proposed a day's trip into the country, always contriving to arrange matters so that he could take her with him. Then he proposed a day's trip into the country, always contriving to arrange matters so that he could take her with him. Then he proposed a day's trip into the country, always contriving to arrange matters so that he could take her with him.

After making the acquaintance of a girl he used first of all to ascertain what the amount of her savings was. If the latter was sufficient he began to make love to her. After having by a promise of marriage won her heart and confidence of his victim, he generally commenced by convincing her with her money. Then he proposed a day's trip into the country, always contriving to arrange matters so that he could take her with him. Then he proposed a day's trip into the country, always contriving to arrange matters so that he could take her with him.

After making the acquaintance of a girl he used first of all to ascertain what the amount of her savings was. If the latter was sufficient he began to make love to her. After having by a promise of marriage won her heart and confidence of his victim, he generally commenced by convincing her with her money. Then he proposed a day's trip into the country, always contriving to arrange matters so that he could take her with him. Then he proposed a day's trip into the country, always contriving to arrange matters so that he could take her with him.

After making the acquaintance of a girl he used first of all to ascertain what the amount of her savings was. If the latter was sufficient he began to make love to her. After having by a promise of marriage won her heart and confidence of his victim, he generally commenced by convincing her with her money. Then he proposed a day's trip into the country, always contriving to arrange matters so that he could take her with him. Then he proposed a day's trip into the country, always contriving to arrange matters so that he could take her with him.

After making the acquaintance of a girl he used first of all to ascertain what the amount of her savings was. If the latter was sufficient he began to make love to her. After having by a promise of marriage won her heart and confidence of his victim, he generally commenced by convincing her with her money. Then he proposed a day's trip into the country, always contriving to arrange matters so that he could take her with him. Then he proposed a day's trip into the country, always contriving to arrange matters so that he could take her with him.

Schenck, who was really his brother. The latter was traced to Linz, but had left his lodgings which were searched in which much property belonging to the woman who had gone away with him was found. On the night of January 10 he was traced to Vienna to the house of a friend and arrested in bed. He showed excessive terror and had to be helped down stairs. His brother was also arrested.

A OLD BLOODIED CRIME.

One of his victims was Theresa Ketterl, thirty-seven years of age, from Munich, who was employed as cook in the household of an official of the Ministry of Finance. He became acquainted with her in July last. In the latter days of August he invited her to an excursion to St. Pölten, a suburb of Vienna. There they rambled the whole day through the solitary woods. She became very tender to Schenck and kissed him repeatedly. At last she said to him, "Oh, for the love of God, dear Hugo, be true to me! If you will ever desert me I shall commit suicide." Schenck laughed. "You shall not. You do not even know how." "I will shoot myself if you do not keep your word to me," she said. "Look that is how it must be done," Schenck pulled a pistol out of his pocket, pointed the muzzle at her head and pulled the trigger. The girl cried in terror, "Don't fear, little goose," Schenck said, "I have only loaded with blank cartridges." "You try to frighten me," she cried, "I am not joking myself," "There is not so much of that," he cried, "I have only loaded with blank cartridges." "You try to frighten me," she cried, "I am not joking myself," "There is not so much of that," he cried, "I have only loaded with blank cartridges."

After making the acquaintance of a girl he used first of all to ascertain what the amount of her savings was. If the latter was sufficient he began to make love to her. After having by a promise of marriage won her heart and confidence of his victim, he generally commenced by convincing her with her money. Then he proposed a day's trip into the country, always contriving to arrange matters so that he could take her with him. Then he proposed a day's trip into the country, always contriving to arrange matters so that he could take her with him.

After making the acquaintance of a girl he used first of all to ascertain what the amount of her savings was. If the latter was sufficient he began to make love to her. After having by a promise of marriage won her heart and confidence of his victim, he generally commenced by convincing her with her money. Then he proposed a day's trip into the country, always contriving to arrange matters so that he could take her with him. Then he proposed a day's trip into the country, always contriving to arrange matters so that he could take her with him.

After making the acquaintance of a girl he used first of all to ascertain what the amount of her savings was. If the latter was sufficient he began to make love to her. After having by a promise of marriage won her heart and confidence of his victim, he generally commenced by convincing her with her money. Then he proposed a day's trip into the country, always contriving to arrange matters so that he could take her with him. Then he proposed a day's trip into the country, always contriving to arrange matters so that he could take her with him.

After making the acquaintance of a girl he used first of all to ascertain what the amount of her savings was. If the latter was sufficient he began to make love to her. After having by a promise of marriage won her heart and confidence of his victim, he generally commenced by convincing her with her money. Then he proposed a day's trip into the country, always contriving to arrange matters so that he could take her with him. Then he proposed a day's trip into the country, always contriving to arrange matters so that he could take her with him.

After making the acquaintance of a girl he used first of all to ascertain what the amount of her savings was. If the latter was sufficient he began to make love to her. After having by a promise of marriage won her heart and confidence of his victim, he generally commenced by convincing her with her money. Then he proposed a day's trip into the country, always contriving to arrange matters so that he could take her with him. Then he proposed a day's trip into the country, always contriving to arrange matters so that he could take her with him.

THE BANKRUPTCY BILL.

Some of the Features of the Law Just Passed.

The Courts and the Manner in Which They Are to Have Jurisdiction Over Bankruptcy Cases—Other Features.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 23.—The Bankruptcy Bill, as passed by the Senate, constitutes the several districts courts of the United States and Territories and the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia courts of bankruptcy, with jurisdiction of all questions of claims, assets, exemptions, composition and discharge. For the purposes of bankruptcy the courts shall be always open, as well in vacation as in term time; when the District Judge, from any cause, is unable to act, it is the duty of the United States Circuit Judge to act in his stead. The District Judge may certify any question of law involved to the United States Circuit Court, which is to be reviewed by the Supreme Court of the United States, except upon a certified question of law involving the construction of the United States Bankruptcy Act, which may be reviewed by the Supreme Court of the United States, except upon a certified question of law involving the construction of the United States Bankruptcy Act.

After making the acquaintance of a girl he used first of all to ascertain what the amount of her savings was. If the latter was sufficient he began to make love to her. After having by a promise of marriage won her heart and confidence of his victim, he generally commenced by convincing her with her money. Then he proposed a day's trip into the country, always contriving to arrange matters so that he could take her with him. Then he proposed a day's trip into the country, always contriving to arrange matters so that he could take her with him.

After making the acquaintance of a girl he used first of all to ascertain what the amount of her savings was. If the latter was sufficient he began to make love to her. After having by a promise of marriage won her heart and confidence of his victim, he generally commenced by convincing her with her money. Then he proposed a day's trip into the country, always contriving to arrange matters so that he could take her with him. Then he proposed a day's trip into the country, always contriving to arrange matters so that he could take her with him.

After making the acquaintance of a girl he used first of all to ascertain what the amount of her savings was. If the latter was sufficient he began to make love to her. After having by a promise of marriage won her heart and confidence of his victim, he generally commenced by convincing her with her money. Then he proposed a day's trip into the country, always contriving to arrange matters so that he could take her with him. Then he proposed a day's trip into the country, always contriving to arrange matters so that he could take her with him.

After making the acquaintance of a girl he used first of all to ascertain what the amount of her savings was. If the latter was sufficient he began to make love to her. After having by a promise of marriage won her heart and confidence of his victim, he generally commenced by convincing her with her money. Then he proposed a day's trip into the country, always contriving to arrange matters so that he could take her with him. Then he proposed a day's trip into the country, always contriving to arrange matters so that he could take her with him.

as shall seem best for himself and companions. He wishes it to be understood that he declines any responsibility for the bloodshed that may hereafter occur in the Sudan, and all blood guiltiness must rest upon the Government.

CAIRO, April 23.—Several Sheiks, whose efforts to organize a riot have attracted the attention of the police, have been arrested. LONDON, April 23.—The Standard is credibly informed that all the available Egyptian troops, comprising all branches of the military service, will start from Cairo for Khartoum at once.

CAIRO, April 23.—Meher Padua has telegraphed from Berber asking if troops are to be sent to his assistance. If not, he says, he wants instructions prior to making the best possible terms with El Mahdi, as he will be unable to hold out much longer. PARIS, April 23.—The Figaro's correspondent from Cairo sends the following details of the recent Shendi massacre: Three hundred Egyptian troops and 600 non-combatants, proceeding to make the hazardous attempt to march to Berber to starving insurrectionists, set out from the latter place on the 15th instant. Part of the number went slowly by a steamer down the river, while others marched along the river bank. On the 17th, the marchers were attacked by Arabs, and after a short fight all the troops were killed. The survivors were captured. The Arabs afterward captured Shendi. The Egyptians troops there discarded their arms and uniforms in the act of being spared. Few, however, escaped the general massacre. Two thousand men, women and children were killed. For many of them were refugees from Khartoum.

LOCOMOTIVE BUILDING.

The Baldwin Works to Cut Down One-half.

PHILADELPHIA, April 23.—Two hundred employees of the Baldwin Locomotive Works have been discharged, owing to the lack of orders, and the remaining men are to work on two-thirds time during the next thirty days. The number of employees will be reduced one-half. "The cause of the present trouble," says the Superintendent of the works, "is a remarkable depression in the locomotive building trade. We have not received a large order for several months. The works have been running 2,000 men, but that force has been reduced to 3,500 and by the time we have finished thirty-eight engines for Brazil and the Argentine Republic, which will be within a month, the force will be cut to 2,000 men. The capacity of the works is twelve locomotives a week. With the reduced force we will be able to turn out six weekly. The orders we had for the Mexican National and Mexican Central roads have been completed. The depression will last is, of course, beyond conjecture, but from the present condition of the market it is evident that we will be compelled to run short for six months at least. About six hundred men will be discharged, before the end of May."

SIMPKINS' MAYOR.

The Colored Society of Little Rock All Turn Up.

LITTLE ROCK, April 23.—The best colored society in this city is the Simpkins, a conspicuous Republican and officer of the class, a leading organizer of the colored people in this State. He is a jet black, intelligent and sharp. His social standing and position among the colored people is a figure on all important occasions to his race. He is a single man and boarded with one of the most respectable colored families who had implicit confidence in his honor. One morning, being late for breakfast, the daughter of the family called to call him. He seized her, dragged her into the room, and indignantly assaulted her. He then fled. As the girl became known, a storm of indignation was aroused among the colored people, and they set out in pursuit of him. It is caught there will be a funeral without an attendant minister. A warrant is out for Simpkins.

Tried To Save His Friend.

CHARLOTTE, W. Va., April 23.—Ed. Hay, Sam. Turner, and Henry Jack, all of whom were charged with the murder of Young's property, on Virginia street, Hickory Jack went in the well, and nothing was heard from him for some time. The others called out to him, but received no answer, so Sam. Turner started down to investigate. Half way down he suddenly dropped with a thud, which warned Ray, causing him to realize that the men were overcome by foul air. Steps to rescue the men were immediately taken, but when brought out they were beyond human aid. These men have been engaged in cleaning and digging works for a number of years. Sam. tried to save Hickory in the face of a danger which he realized. He risked his life and lost it in his effort to save a fellow-workman.

A Murderer Captured.

CHARLOTTE, W. Va., April 23.—On the 14th of this month, Sheriff J. A. Caswell shot Philip Hunter dead in his own yard, and seriously wounded Grant Watkins. All were in company when they grew out of jealousy. Caswell had been the lover of a white woman named Jennie Martin; Hunter, a negro, was well known to Caswell, and was a rival for the love of the same woman. Caswell fled, going first to Vinton, thence to Huntington, Portsmouth, and finally to Cincinnati, Charleston and Campbell Creek. To-day, at the Pioneer Coal Co.'s store, he was arrested by Hamilton County deputies. He is charged with the murder of Watkins, and will undoubtedly hang for his crime. He starts for Jackson, O., to-day.

McHugh Must Hang.

COLUMBUS, A. S., April 23.—The Supreme Court has affirmed the conviction of McHugh for the murder of a man in the Common Pleas Court, at Hamilton County. The German Cholera Commission do not think the disease will prevail in Egypt this year.

THE SOUDAN.

Latest Account of the Fighting in Egypt.

LONDON, April 23.—The Standard declares its belief that the Powers have agreed to confer upon the matter of Egyptian affairs, and the interest of the Egyptian people is being expressed in indignation at being deserted by the English Government in his hour of need. He declared his intention to cut himself loose from the Government entirely, and

All Cincinnati bills liberally discounted. Call and be convinced, n29d6mo